Our Intern Says Goodbye, by Nadine Frank

At the Bournemouth 2026 Trust office there has been a long tradition of offering placements to German students from the University in Kehl, Germany. I am glad to be part of this 'long history'.

My name is Nadine Frank and I am studying Public Management at the University of Applied Science in Kehl, Germany. The Study is divided into theory and practice. The theoretical part is held at the University and the practical part takes place in different departments of public authorities. One of these internships can be spent abroad. This is why I have just completed a three month internship with Bournemouth 2026 Trust.

My work at Bournemouth 2026 Trust was focused on website maintenance, research and event and staff assistance. It was a great experience to see how working in the social sector is in another country.

Every Wednesday I spent at the Bournemouth Borough Council to support the Sustainable Food City Partnership project. In this way I got some impression into the processes of a large public authority in England.

I had an amazing time in Bournemouth and I would like to thank everyone I have met.
